

The lender countries wanted to help the borrower countries

The lender countries wanted to avoid a crisis at home

The lender countries wanted to force institutional change

